Self Protection

These days, people pay more attention to safety problems. However, some of them know little about how to solve safety problems. Here are my suggestions.

Firstly, we should follow the traffic rules, or it may cause accidents. We mustn't cross the road if the traffic light is red. We should wait until the light turns green. What's more, be careful of making friends online. Strangers online may do something bad to us so we'd better not tell personal information to them. Always think twice before meeting a net friend. As long as we follow these suggestions, we are sure to live happily.

In short, self protection is very important to us. Wish everyone a safe life!

Hello, everyone! My name is Li Hua. Nowadays, people care more about our grades. In fact, good behavior is as important as good grades. However, some bad behavior can be seen around us. For example, some students throw rubbish everywhere, which makes the environment worse and worse. Some students are always shouting back angrily to their parents. Gradually, the relations between them have become difficult.

How can we behave well? First, I think we should be polite and kind to others. Be ready to help others in need. Second, try to be honest and keep promises. The most important thing is to follow the rules at school or in public.

Let's pull together and take action from now on.

I believe we'll be better students as long as we behave ourselves.

That's all. Thanks for listening!

A lot of things in China surprised Jane. For example, the busy roads. There were hundreds of cars and bicycles on the roads all day and all night.

A Speech at the National Flag Raising Ceremony

Hello everyone,

I am honorable to give the speech at the national flag raising ceremony. I watched the national flag raising ceremony on the morning, marking the 68th anniversary of the founding of the People's Republic of China. I was so excited and proud that I almost cried. Watching the national flag raising ceremony at the Tian'anmen Square on the country's birthday has been a way of Chinese celebrating the National Day. Some joined the gathering for sight seeing, and others came to express the feeling of patriotism. At that moment, I took pride in myself as a Chinese and was surprised at the rapid development of our country.

Thanks for your listening.

Knowledge Comes from Questioning

As a student, we may have different good learning habits. Asking questions is my favorite way to learn. I believe that knowledge comes from questioning.

In an English class last term. Our English teacher Ms. Lai asked us a question about the usage of the word encourage. When I saw "encourage sb of doing sth" on the blackboard, I put up my hands and asked the teacher the reason. Then she gave us an example. Ms. Lai told us that I was right. She made a mistake for it. It should be "encourage sb to do sth". Therefore, she showed an example. She encouraged us to ask more questions in the class.

I was nervous at first, but I felt so happy that I also learned a lot from questioning.

One day, I didn't get good grades in the English exam. I was afraid to tell my mother about my grades. When I got home, I hid my English paper somewhere. I told my mother I got good grades but I lost my English paper. Unluckily, my mother found it later by accident. She realized that I had told lies and was angry with me. She said that honesty was more important than grades. She wanted me to be an honest person. From then on, I never told lies.
